

WALTHER FT 8-32X56 vs Leapers 8-32x56

Escrito por copeito - 16/10/2010 17:15

Hola gente!

Estoy a la espera de recibir en mi humilde morada a mi nueva "adopción", un Air Arms TX200 MKIII en 4.5 y necesito un visorcito que ponerle que no sea excesivamente caro, que con el desembolso que acabo de hacer ya me llega, jejeje ;-)

En principio estaba pensando en un Leapers 8-32x56 por la fama de duros que tienen, porque en cuanto a relación calidad/precio no parecen estar mal y porque necesito uno con estos aumentos para tumbar diversa fauna metálica a 50 metros, pero me he encontrado con varios comentarios de compañeros que tienen el Walter FT 8-32x56 y elogian su calidad en algunos aspectos por encima del Leapers, además de ser unos 100 euros más barato....

¿Vosotros cual me recomendaríais?

Graciñas e unha aperta ;-)

Bueno, esto por manter o fio aberto, mais que nada.

Eu son un novo aterrado por esto do ft. e non che poido axudar moito, teremos que esperar ao resto do persoal, haber que nos din.

Deben de estar todos de sabadete ;)

Hola, a pesar de que la TX es el arma de muelle mas cariñosa con los visores, el Walther ha cascado en alguna ocasión con muelle y el Leapers también, pero a priori el Leapers se le supone mas duro.

saludos

Carallo, ya resucito el personal y yo dandome una vuelta por la hemeroteca del foro. B)

Haber Copeito, podemos hacer un trato; tu te compras el Walter y yo te lo cambio por el gamo 6-24x50, que este si que aguanta el resorte.

Aunque eso puede suponer tener que centrar de nuevo, pero bueno, todo sea por ayudar.

Gracias Truman, algo de eso ya lo tenía entendido... ¿Y en cuanto a otros aspectos como la óptica qué opinas?

En cuanto a una posible rotura, me imagino que los visores deben tener garantía y esta cubriría la posible rotura del visor por una carabina, al menos de potencia menor a 24.2 julios ¿Me equivoco?

Jejejeje, no sería mala idea, lo malo es que por lo que he visto el Gamo no tiene ajuste de paralelaje... Además dicen las malas lenguas que la óptica de los visores Gamo no es de lo mejor ¿Has podido comparar tu visor con otros de otras marcas?

Unha aperta ;-)

Si tiene ajuste de paralelaje frontal, la optica no es de gama alta pero cumple a la perfección hasta condiciones bastante bajas de luz, es de facil enfoque y tiene torreta con cliks de 1/8" muy fino.

Y el zos 10-40x60?? es un visor cojonudo y barato, aguanta de sobra es una opcion muy buena
